Van Kloberg had certain invitations sent out which offered a White House reception party as an incentive to those who purchased tickets. According to [REDACTED] Van Kloberg knew full well that the White House had turned down Van Kloberg's request because the White House had knowledge of a law suit filed by COSSMHO against Van Kloberg in United States District Court (USDC), WDC, charging Van Kloberg had taken money from COSSMHO, an Hispanic mental health organization.

Later in May, 1983, [ ] again came to [ ] with contracts from the countries of Panama, Syria, Gabon and Lesotho. [ ] read the contracts which reflected these countries having entered into a public relations contract with Van Kloberg and Associates and agreeing to deposit certain monies into Van Kloberg bank accounts in the Carribean and one located in Oklahoma. [ ] asked [ ] to sign the Syria and Panama contracts using the [ ] names. [ ] signed the Syria contract [ ] and then the Panama contract. He did not recall the name of Panama's [ ] but is certain he signed it. Before signing the [ ] name to the contracts he asked [ ] if he was committing forgery. [ ] told him not to worry and that the contracts were only to be shown to [ ] to calm her fears regarding the financial status of the company.

b7C

A few days later [ ] saw the same documents on the office floor where they were being filed into loan packets being sent to area banks. [ ] went directly to both [ ] Van Kloberg realizing he had been duped into signing the contracts. [ ] and [ ] told [ ] not to worry about anything. [ ] later delivered what he thought might have been a loan package containing the contracts to the National Savings and Trust Bank (NS&T), WDC.

b7C

On [ ] submitted his resignation to Van Kloberg and told him he did not want to be part of what appeared to be illegal activities being carried on by Van Kloberg. Van Kloberg became very nervous, asking [ ] who else in the office knew about what was going on with the contracts. [ ] told him he did not. Van Kloberg was concerned as to whether it was Attorney, [ ] [ ], whom he had previously fired, who had told everyone in the office what Van Kloberg was doing. Van Kloberg told him the issue was mute and that he would go to the Madison National Bank (MNB) and retrieve the loan application he had filed there. This is the first time [ ] realized Van Kloberg had sent a loan application to that particular bank.

b7C

b6
b7C

[ ] advised that Van Kloberg rarely paid his employees on time. In fact, [ ] still had a payroll check drawn on the NS&T Bank which he was unable to cash because of insufficient funds. Van Kloberg also paid employees through accounts at D.C. National Bank (DCNB) at 15th and Vermont Avenue, N.W., and American Security Bank (ASB).

[ ] described Van Kloberg as a white male, approximately forty years of age, six feet in height, weighing approximately two hundred twenty-five pounds with brown hair. [ ] described Van Kloberg as being overweight with a heavy build.

[REDACTED] was provided the identity of interviewing agent and then provided the following information:

[REDACTED] stated that [REDACTED] had met an individual named EDWARD J. VAN KLOBERG during early April, 1983 at a luncheon. Van Kloberg advised [REDACTED] he had just fired three employees from his firm the day before and needed a person to help arrange a benefit his firm was sponsoring for the Boys and Girls Club of Washington.

On April 4, 1983, [REDACTED] went to the office of Van Kloberg and met with him. Van Kloberg advised her that his firm, Van Kloberg and Associates, was a public relations and international consulting firm, which had been in business approximately one year. Each invitation explained that the cost per ticket was $40.00 each or a table of ten for $500.00. The table of ten for $500.00 entitled the persons to a ticket to the benefit and an invitation to an Embassy cocktail reception. [REDACTED] advised that the invitation also included a $1,000.00 donation which included a table of ten to the benefit, two White House receptions and ten invitations to Embassy cocktail parties. not send out the invitation knowing well in advance that they could not honor the offer to the White House receptions. Van Kloberg advised her to send them out anyway. [ ] also doubted there were any arrangements made for the Embassy cocktail parties. [ ] had heard that an individual named [ ] had sued Van Kloberg in court for embezzling money from proceeds from an Hispanic Mental Health benefit named COSSMHO that Van Kloberg had arranged. Because of this law suit, the White House refused to do business with Van Kloberg.

During approximately May, 1983, [ ] at Van Kloberg and Associates, asked [ ] to contact her friend at the Syrian Embassy to obtain letter-head stationery. [ ] asked [ ] why he wanted the stationery and he told her "you don't want to know." She told him she would not do that for him.

b6

On May 14, 1983, Van Kloberg asked her to meet with his [ ] and sign a document. In a hurry, as she was late for an appointment, she signed an individual's name to what she now believes was a typewritten contract Van Kloberg was to have had with the Syrian Embassy. She believes the name was [ ] or something close to that name.

b6

A few days later [ ] advised [ ] that he had a loan package including financial statements of Van Kloberg and Associates as well as signed business contracts for retainer work with certain Embassies. [ ] told her that he knew they were fraudulent and decided he was not returning to work for Van Kloberg. [ ] with Van Kloberg and Associates, told [ ] he had signed one of the contracts himself and actually delivered the loan packages to WDC area banks. She did not know which banks and advised that [ ] also became nervous and quit.

On [ ] sent Van Kloberg a mail gram advising him she was resigning because she felt he was carrying on unethical business practices and did not want to be a part of it. Van Kloberg telephoned [ ] and told her not to worry about the contract she had signed, that it was only being used "in house" and would never be sent to any banks. Van Kloberg told her "his criminal attorney", [redacted] would send her a letter confirming this so that she would not have to worry.

[redacted] added that while working for Van Kloberg she was paid on three different occasions with checks drawn on three different bank accounts. The first check was a check drawn on the D.C. National Bank (DCNB) which was since closed. The second was a cashiers check drawn on the American Security Bank (ASB). The third check was a company check drawn on the National Savings and Trust Bank (NS&T).

[redacted] advised that she became aware of a possible position with Van Kloberg and Associates through a friend of hers [redacted]. While working on the Boys and Girls Club invitations at the request of Van Kloberg, [redacted] did not approve the invitations being sent out inasmuch as they were offering visits to the White House and Embassy cocktail parties as an inducement to purchase a ticket to the benefit, knowing well in advance that no such confirmation had been received for same from the White House.

[redacted] was also aware of Van Kloberg and Associates contracts with foreign countries which are being used to assist Van Kloberg in his attempts to get loans from various banks. [ ] advised that she did not argue with Van Kloberg at the time she was fired because she was afraid for her own protection. When asked why she feared Van Kloberg, [ ] stated that she had been an activity therapist at a mental hospital, had been schooled in identifying personalities and had Van Kloberg diagnosed as a socio-psycopath who had not yet openly admitted his homosexuality. In reference to Van Kloberg's loan package,

On June 13, 1983, EDWARD JOSEPH VAN KLOBERG, III, 4008 47th Street, Apartment 3, N.W., Washington, D.C. In approximately November or December, 1981, he met [redacted] [redacted] decided to invest in Van Kloborg's business and began providing Van Kloborg with $21,000.00 per month beginning in January, 1982. It was also during approximately May, 1983, that Van Kloberg presented loan package requests for $60,000.00 each to the banks of National Savings and Trust (NS&T), WDC, Madison National Bank (MNB), WDC, and First American Bank of Maryland (FAB), Silver Spring, Maryland. Included in each of these three loan packages were the three fraudulent contracts. Also included in the loan packages was an attachment listing the names of seven clients he worked for on a retainer basis and from which he received an annual income of $180,000.00. SA [ ] displayed to Van Kloberg a copy of this attachment and Van Kloberg stated that the attachment was also fraudulent in nature and that he was not on retainer with any of those clients. Van Kloberg continued by stating that also as part of the loan package he provided the banks with a projected income statement for the fiscal years ending September 30, 1983, 1984, and 1985. The income statement reflected projected income for 1983 as being approximately $380,000.00 from Governmental Affairs, representing work with thirteen embassies, $180,000.00 income from retainer contracts referred to above and an additional $34,800.00 income from University Relations. SA [ ] then displayed a copy of this projected income statement to Van Kloberg and he advised he had not one Governmental Affairs contract nor one source of income from University Relations. Van Kloberg stated he had hoped to get the business but had none at that time. Included in the Governmental Affairs income were the three fraudulent contracts from the countries of Panama, Syria and Lesotho.

Van Kloberg further advised that he had sent through the United States Mail a number of circular stock offerings to prospective investors regarding his company. To approximately twelve of these people he sent the stock offerings he also later sent a "bogus" letter in which he made false and inaccurate statements regarding the financial strengths of his company. According to Van Kloberg, he made statements in the letter reflecting contracts he had executed, all of which were false. Van Kloberg provided SA [ ] with the following list of persons to which he sent the "bogus" letters to in an attempt to create greater interest in his company.

Van Kloberg stated that the entire $21,000.00 he received each month from [ ] was spent on legitimate business expenses which he could substantiate through bank records. b6

[redacted] advised that he first met Van Kloberg during approximately 1979 when Van Kloberg and he were both with the D.C. Chamber of Commerce. Van Kloberg requested [redacted] assistance in preparing and then presenting the financials of the D.C. Chamber of Commerce to the Board of Commerce which reflected them in bankruptcy. he had been turned down by the Madison National Bank (MNB) in an attempt to obtain a loan. Van Kloberg told [ ] he was presently receiving $21,000.00 per month in income from seven or eight firms he had on retainer, as well as additional income from three contracts he had recently negotiated involving three different foreign countries. Van Kloberg showed him the three contracts as well as a list of the names of companies Van Kloberg had on retainer. Based on this information as well as the fact that [ ] had referred Van Kloberg to the First American Bank of Maryland (FAB/M) where Van Kloberg was to negotiate a loan, [ ] provided Van Kloberg with $9,500.00. [ ] also, based on the income Van Kloberg claimed he was receiving, prepared a cash flow statement for Van Kloberg to be provided the bank in an attempt to obtain a loan. [ ] was also aware of a loan package sent to National Savings and Trust (NS&T) Bank.

Approximately one week later [ ] was advised by Van Kloberg and his attorney, [ ], that not only were the three contracts fraudulent, but the $21,000.00 retainer income had also been falsified, meaning the cash flow statement [ ] had prepared for Van Kloberg was also false. [ ] further advised that Van Kloberg is presently working on a Boys and Girls Club of Greater Washington awards dinner to take place July 20, 1983 at the Sheraton Hotel. Van Kloberg expects between 300 - 400 people to attend and to gross approximately $50,000.00 from the fund raiser from which Van Kloberg was to net 10% or approximately $5,000.00. Edward K. Von Kloberg was dismissed from AU in 1977 or 1978. Von Kloberg, at the time of his dismissal, was a Dean of Admissions at AU, and certainly not "the Dean of AU" as Von Kloberg subsequently claimed. Von Kloberg was mainly assigned duties concerning the admission of freshmen and foreign students. Von Kloberg was dismissed because he was not a professional, because his associates and subordinates objected to Von Kloberg's heavy handling of his office, and because Von Kloberg followed his own agenda and did not conduct himself for the "best interest of the university." [redacted] described Von Kloberg as an intriguing person who implied that he had contacts with people in power and appeared to be over-occupied with his own self aggrandizement. Although there were rumors that Von Kloberg had misappropriated university funds for trips, office decoration and party functions all at AU expense, no solid evidence was ever uncovered to substantiate these charges or give cause for AU to report Von Kloberg to law enforcement authorities. [redacted] was aware that Von Kloberg's associates felt that Von Kloberg was "spying" on them and they were resentful of his harsh treatment and temperament.

As in the case of other dismissals at AU, Von Kloberg was advised at the time of his termination of the action AU was about to take against him. Pro forma, Von Kloberg was offered a "face saving gesture" and allowed to submit a letter of resignation which he did. No public statement was made by AU when Von Kloberg departed.

Van Kloberg admits false loan statement

BY A WASHINGTON TIMES STAFF WRITER
 Edward van Kloberg III, former chamber of commerce official and college dean, and the owner of a public relations firm, pleaded guilty yesterday in federal court to making false statements while attempting to obtain a business loan from a local bank.

Van Kloberg, who entered a guilty plea to a single count of making false statements, had two additional false statement charges involving attempts to acquire loans from the First American and NS & T banks dropped by the government.

Van Kloberg, who faces a maximum of two years in jail and a $5,000 fine, will be sentenced Feb. 16 by U.S. District Judge June Green.

Prosecutors said van Kloberg abused the reputation of his firm, van Kloberg & Associates, by falsifying credit letters in an attempt to obtain a $60,000 loan from Madison National Bank.

Assistant U.S. Attorney Eric Marcy said that last May 23 van Kloberg presented the bank with three letters stating he had contracts with foreign governments.

The letters, allegedly signed by the ambassadors of Panama, Syria and Lesotho, were intended to inform the bank of the firm's suitability for a loan.

All the letters and the signatures on them were false, Mr. Marcy said. Van Kloberg's scheme was detected when one of his employees contacted the FBI before the loan was issued.

Van Kloberg's 3-year-old business has a staff of 14 and approximately 50 consultants, who are used on an "as needed" basis, company spokesman Nick Hilywa said yesterday.

Previously van Kloberg served as dean of admissions, financial aid and veterans' affairs at American University. He is a member of the Mayor's International Task Force and the D.C. Youth Employment Board, and a director of the D.C.

Society for Crippled Children. He was a vice president of the District Chamber of Commerce.

Among the firm's consultants are Bennetta Washington, wife of former D.C. Mayor Walter Washington, and Lula Dawson, the wife of Horace Dawson, former U.S. ambassador to Botswana.

"Edward J. van Kloberg's resourcefulness and innovativeness are highly respected by key figures in the many sectors of our community," former Mayor Walter Washington is quoted as saying in a 1978 statement.

Reached yesterday, Mr. Washington, a local attorney, said he was "very much surprised" by the court action.

Enter "LF" in the "In-Jail" block for all life sentences and "CP" for all capital punishment sentences.

Reporting Convictions:

Convictions should not be reported until the sentence has been issued. There are two exceptions to this rule. The conviction information can be submitted by itself if:

  - 2. The subject dies after conviction but prior to sentencing.
- An explanation is required in the Remarks section for either of the above exceptions.

Rule 20 Situations:

The field office that obtained the process (normally the office of origin) is the office that should claim the conviction, not the office where the subject enters the plea in cases involving Rule 20 of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedures.

Investigative Assistance or Techniques (IA/Ts) Used:

- Since more than one IA/T could have contributed to the accomplishment, each IA/T must be rated.
- The IA/T used must be rated each time an accomplishment is claimed. (For example - if informant information was the basis for a complaint, an arrest, a recovery and a conviction and if separate FD-515s are submitted for each of the aforementioned accomplishments, the "Informant Information" block must be rated on each FD-515 even if it was the same information that contributed to all the accomplishments.)

Probation Given for False Statements to Bank

By Al Kamen

Washington Post Staff Writer

A former D.C. Chamber of Commerce vice president and American University dean of admissions was sentenced yesterday to five years' probation for making false statements on a bank application for a business loan.

Edward van Kloberg III, 42, who owns a public relations firm, pleaded guilty on Jan. 5 to one count of making false statements last May in attempting to obtain a $60,000 loan from Madison National Bank. Prosecutors dropped two additional false-statement charges involving attempts to obtain credit from two other banks.

Van Kloberg, who worked for American University for 14 years and then served for one year in 1980 as a vice president at the Chamber of Commerce, admitted giving the bank letters to support the loan application allegedly signed by the ambassadors of Panama, Syria and Lesotho, and written on official stationery.

The letters, which said the 2-year-old public relations firm had contracts with those countries, and the signatures on them were false, Assistant U.S. Attorney Eric Marcy said in papers submitted in the case.

"I knew what I was doing was wrong," van Kloberg told U.S. District Court Senior Judge June L. Green at a brief hearing yesterday. Van Kloberg, his voice cracking with emotion, asked Green not to send him to prison but to place him on probation so he could work to repay his financial backers.

Van Kloberg's attorney, Thomas Dyson, told Green that van Kloberg's actions were the result of his "desperation" to save his financially troubled business, which has about 18 full-time employees and at times has been unable to pay its employees.

The false loan applications were uncovered when one of his employees contacted the FBI before the loan was issued, according to Marcy.

Green, who could have sentenced van Kloberg to a maximum of two years in prison and a fine of $5,000, also ordered him to perform 100 hours of unspecified community service.

EDWARD JOSEPH VAN KLOBERG, III
White/male; Date of Birth: January 9, 1942;
Place of Birth: New York, New York;
Social Security Number 074-34-8204

On October 6, 1989, a review of the indices of the Washington Metropolitan Field Office (WMFO) of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) disclosed the existence of a file, entitled, "EDWARD JOSEPH VAN KLOBERG, dba VAN KLOBERG AND ASSOCIATES, 1750 K STREET, N.W., WASHINGTON, D.C.; FRAUD BY WIRE; MAIL FRAUD." The following information was derived from a review of that file.

Between about October, 1981, and June, 1983, EDWARD JOSEPH VAN KLOBERG, III, was engaged in operating what he described (in a June 13, 1983, interview by FBI special agents) as a public relations and international consulting business, known as VAN KLOBERG AND ASSOCIATES. In the name of that business, VAN KLOBERG solicited and received more than $300,000.00 from various investors, to whom he later showed fraudulent contracts and correspondence as proof that his business was flourishing. In or about May, 1983, VAN KLOBERG also presented the same and additional fraudulent documents to three federally-insured banking institutions as proof of creditworthiness for loans.

In November, 1983, an information charging VAN KLOBERG with a one-count violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1014 (False Statement to a Bank), was filed in the United States district court for the District of Columbia. On January 5, 1984, VAN KLOBERG entered a plea of guilty to the foregoing charge. On February 16, 1984, he was sentenced to serve five years probation and to perform one hundred hours of community service.

Although a further search of WMFO's indices did disclose other references to EDWARD JOSEPH VAN KLOBERG, III, and to VAN KLOBERG & ASSOCIATES, a review of those files revealed that neither VAN KLOBERG, nor VAN KLOBERG & ASSOCIATES, was the subject of those investigations, and that the information was not derogatory in nature.
